

LIVING WITH ALLERGIES DVD

This powerful video has been put together by Dijana Green to reinforce the impact that allergens and similar substances can have on the lives of everyday people

Dijana interviews several of her friends and discusses how people who suffer from allergies, intolerances or sensitivities are significantly affected by possible cross contact contamination and incorrect labelling. Lack of trust in food manufacturers and food service providers will severely restricted sufferers in their food choices and ability to socialise.

You come away with a clear message on the need for:

- Clear and easy to read labelling
- Good manufacturing practices to minimise the risk of cross contact contamination; and for
- Food manufacturers to understand the consequences of contamination or incorrect labelling on their consumers
